

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT..... JACKIE FUREY

Jackie Furey is unquestionably one of the most insightful, sensitive and compassionate people I have ever met. She truly understands the human psyche and how it impacts our personal and professional lives. It has been my privilege to have worked closely with Jackie in Australia, Europe and North America over the past few years and I am constantly impressed by her ability to understand and offer advice to people. I am proud to call her my colleague and friend.

180 Solutions Inc. has employed Jackie Furey over the last 3 years to be a member of our panel of international experts for corporate retreats that we run in North America. Jackie, along with 4 or 5 other international experts, is retained on a project by project basis to deliver seminar-style presentations and interactive workshops for groups of seasoned business owners and executives from Canadian-based companies. In addition to her speaking requirements, she is also required to hold confidential one-on-one sessions with our participants, where her expertise and knowledge in the area of Leadership and Organizational Behavior has become legendary, and her previous work as a clinical psychotherapist provides extremely valuable insight into the minds and mechanics of each participant who is lucky enough to have a session with her.

Before I met Jackie Furey my life held a simple credo – work, work, work. There was no such thing as work-life balance as the life portion did not come into the equation. The 60 minute session we spent together created a life altering experience. Her impact will be everlasting. She's a role model and indeed an amazing person. Reading this you may think such a change is impossible in such a short time. I would too, but experiencing is believing.

Jackie Furey is an expert in her field. Her talks and workshops on "From bedroom to boardroom® it's all about performance" are delivered with mastery. I have had the pleasure of working with Jackie as a business colleague for the past 7 years in over 25 cities around the world. She has an enviable reputation as one of the world's top experts in personal and professional development. Without doubt she is a true leader in the field of personal and professional relationships.

Ross Smith – CEO Mindshelf UK (Rated no: 1 speaker at AREC 2007)

Jackie is well respected as an executive coach, she was referred to me via an old business mentor. Jackie's approach is direct and professionally assertive. She is a no nonsense coach and communicates through a method of self discovery using your own intellect – helping you see the way it 'really' is. Jackie is an intelligent executive coach, who has the ability to get to the heart of a matter and help others see a different dimension to a normal or complex business challenge. She then assists in the resolution, plays devils advocate about the method of implementation and guides the resulting communication of the subject matter for its integration throughout the business. She comes highly recommended for those either in executive roles now – looking to advance their career, or those who like me, want to lead their business and people to the top! Like any professional athlete – your coach is your best tool.
